VILLAGE LIFE DOUCMENTARY

Achhoti Durg

Introduction

Village life is full of simplicity and peace. Villages are blessed with greenery, purity of air, water as well as people. People in the villages live together with love and harmony. They are hard-working and believe in simple life instead of a luxurious one. India is the land of villages. More than 60% of the population is residing in villages. Therefore we can say that the strength of India lies in its villages. Life in Indian villages is very interesting and beautiful. The people in the villages are living with a feeling of brotherhood. They are ready to help each other in need. Most of the people in our villages work in their fields as a farmer and others are involved in pottery, carpentry, shop, goldsmith, etc.

The people in villages are living in between animals and nature and therefore they care for them. Women in the villages involve themselves with household and field works. The village people go for less purchasing as they grow most of the vegetable grains in their fields and eat fresh foodstuff. They are very laborious. They value the cultural aspect to a greater extent. They lead a simple life with the ultimate aim of life to be happy and satisfied. They do have many desires instead they are satisfied with what they are blessed

Village is the pride of India. The calm, clean, and serene ambiance of the communities help in keeping the mind clear and the body fit. According to the census, almost two-thirds of India's population still resides in the villages. Agriculture constitutes a significant part of the Indian economy and the fundamentals of this lie in the village. In villages, the people stay united no matter what. Agriculture and farming are some of the toughest jobs in India because most of them depend on manual labor and persistence.

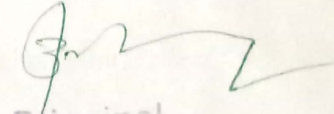

Agriculture and farming are some of the toughest jobs in India because most of them depend on manual labor and persistence. The government should work to make life a bit easy in villages to make it a better place to live in.

Our Visit to Village

We very fond of village life. Villages are blessed with natural beauty and calmness. There, the air is fresh and filled with divine essence. Everywhere we can see greenery. People are connected with each other with a bond of love. They have a better understanding and help each other with their need. People in villages have time for each other.

We used to visit village during vacation and enjoyed it a lot. We could get the fresh air free of pollution. Fruits and vegetables were fresh and with original taste. There were a lot of spaces to move around and play. we used to spend a lot of time in fields and observing the activities going on.

Life of village

1. Life in the village area is enjoyable and peaceful.
2. Villages have a natural beauty to them, and they are simple yet beautiful.
3. The villagers mostly go to the fields to earn a living.
4. Villagers are hardworking and their day starts earlier than people from cities. They work hard in field all day.
5. The village life is all about living a simple life while growing the nation's crops.
6. Village huts are mostly made up of mud.
7. People from diverse professions or multiple professions often can be found in villages.
8. There are potters, oilman, barbers, milkman and other classes of people in it some of them also work as farmers
9. Due to recent developments colleges, schools, hospitals, small factories can also be found along with farms in the villages
10. The people who reside in villages and lead a village life deserve lots of respect for the hard work they do.

Advantages and Disadvantages of Village Life

Everything in this world is featured with both positive and negative aspects. Village life is no doubt very beautiful and interesting but there are some disadvantages too.

Advantages-

Villages have very little pollution level and therefore have access to pure air, water, and other resources.

People in the villages live in harmony and trust each other.

Village helps in maintaining the ecological balance of nature as it has more greenery and thus compensates for the reduced number of trees in urban areas .

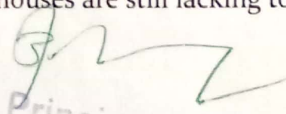

There are plenty of spaces in villages which account for a healthier environment.

Life in villages is secure and also requires less expenditure of money.

Disadvantages-

Many of the villages are yet not get electrified; houses are still lacking toilets which affect sanitation.

Chhoti, Distt. Durg (C.G.)

Villages face a lack of basic services like good roads, hospitals, and health facilities, and educational institutes. Therefore when any serious conditions occur, the patient has to be taken to nearby cities or hospitals.

The transport system is also not developed in many of the villages. People have to walk miles to get transport facilities.

As people in villages are less educated so they do not maintain proper sanitation, thus become prone to several diseases.

They have a strong belief in superstition and thus easily become victims of fraudsters.

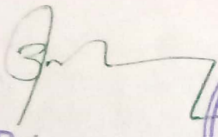

Important points of village life –

1. Daily life routine
2. Literacy
3. Culture
4. Government schemes
5. Problems
6. Water management
7. Hygiene
8. Employment
9. Agriculture works
10. Social life

Conclusion

Village life is simple and beautiful than cities. People live peacefully and are not being driven in a race of success. It is a better place to give relaxation to our mind and soul, as it is free from noise and is filled with natural beauty.

Village life has its own importance but there are some basic services and amenities which should be provided to make life easier in villages. This will improve the living condition of people.

VILLAGE LIFE DOUCMENTARY

Achhoti Durg

Introduction

Village life is full of simplicity and peace. Villages are blessed with greenery, purity of air, water as well as people. People in the villages live together with love and harmony. They are hard-working and believe in simple life instead of a luxurious one. India is the land of villages. More than 60% of the population is residing in villages. Therefore we can say that the strength of India lies in its villages. Life in Indian villages is very interesting and beautiful. The people in the villages are living with a feeling of brotherhood. They are ready to help each other in need. Most of the people in our villages work in their fields as a farmer and others are involved in pottery, carpentry, shop, goldsmith, etc.

The people in villages are living in between animals and nature and therefore they care for them. Women in the villages involve themselves with household and field works. The village people go for less purchasing as they grow most of the vegetable grains in their fields and eat fresh foodstuff. They are very laborious. They value the cultural aspect to a greater extent. They lead a simple life with the ultimate aim of life to be happy and satisfied. They do have many desires instead they are satisfied with what they are blessed

Village is the pride of India. The calm, clean, and serene ambiance of the communities help in keeping the mind clear and the body fit. According to the census, almost two-thirds of India's population still resides in the villages. Agriculture constitutes a significant part of the Indian economy and the fundamentals of this lie in the village. In villages, the people stay united no matter what. Agriculture and farming are some of the toughest jobs in India because most of them depend on manual labor and persistence.

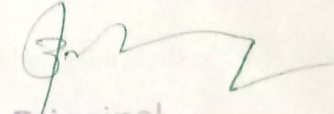

Agriculture and farming are some of the toughest jobs in India because most of them depend on manual labor and persistence. The government should work to make life a bit easy in villages to make it a better place to live in.

Our Visit to Village

We very fond of village life. Villages are blessed with natural beauty and calmness. There, the air is fresh and filled with divine essence. Everywhere we can see greenery. People are connected with each other with a bond of love. They have a better understanding and help each other with their need. People in villages have time for each other.

We used to visit village during vacation and enjoyed it a lot. We could get the fresh air free of pollution. Fruits and vegetables were fresh and with original taste. There were a lot of spaces to move around and play. we used to spend a lot of time in fields and observing the activities going on.

Life of village

1. Life in the village area is enjoyable and peaceful.
2. Villages have a natural beauty to them, and they are simple yet beautiful.
3. The villagers mostly go to the fields to earn a living.
4. Villagers are hardworking and their day starts earlier than people from cities. They work hard in field all day.
5. The village life is all about living a simple life while growing the nation's crops.
6. Village huts are mostly made up of mud.
7. People from diverse professions or multiple professions often can be found in villages.
8. There are potters, oilman, barbers, milkman and other classes of people in it some of them also work as farmers
9. Due to recent developments colleges, schools, hospitals, small factories can also be found along with farms in the villages
10. The people who reside in villages and lead a village life deserve lots of respect for the hard work they do.

Advantages and Disadvantages of Village Life

Everything in this world is featured with both positive and negative aspects. Village life is no doubt very beautiful and interesting but there are some disadvantages too.

Advantages-

Villages have very little pollution level and therefore have access to pure air, water, and other resources.

People in the villages live in harmony and trust each other.

Village helps in maintaining the ecological balance of nature as it has more greenery and thus compensates for the reduced number of trees in urban areas .

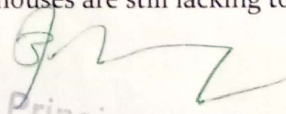

There are plenty of spaces in villages which account for a healthier environment.

Life in villages is secure and also requires less expenditure of money.

Disadvantages-

Many of the villages are yet not get electrified; houses are still lacking toilets which affect sanitation.

Chhoti, Distt. Durg (C.G.)

Villages face a lack of basic services like good roads, hospitals, and health facilities, and educational institutes. Therefore when any serious conditions occur, the patient has to be taken to nearby cities or hospitals.

The transport system is also not developed in many of the villages. People have to walk miles to get transport facilities.

As people in villages are less educated so they do not maintain proper sanitation, thus become prone to several diseases.

They have a strong belief in superstition and thus easily become victims of fraudsters.

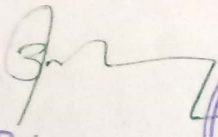

Important points of village life –

1. Daily life routine
2. Literacy
3. Culture
4. Government schemes
5. Problems
6. Water management
7. Hygiene
8. Employment
9. Agriculture works
10. Social life

Conclusion

Village life is simple and beautiful than cities. People live peacefully and are not being driven in a race of success. It is a better place to give relaxation to our mind and soul, as it is free from noise and is filled with natural beauty.

Village life has its own importance but there are some basic services and amenities which should be provided to make life easier in villages. This will improve the living condition of people.

VILLAGE LIFE DOUCMENTARY

Achhoti Durg

Introduction

Village life is full of simplicity and peace. Villages are blessed with greenery, purity of air, water as well as people. People in the villages live together with love and harmony. They are hard-working and believe in simple life instead of a luxurious one. India is the land of villages. More than 60% of the population is residing in villages. Therefore we can say that the strength of India lies in its villages. Life in Indian villages is very interesting and beautiful. The people in the villages are living with a feeling of brotherhood. They are ready to help each other in need. Most of the people in our villages work in their fields as a farmer and others are involved in pottery, carpentry, shop, goldsmith, etc.

The people in villages are living in between animals and nature and therefore they care for them. Women in the villages involve themselves with household and field works. The village people go for less purchasing as they grow most of the vegetable grains in their fields and eat fresh foodstuff. They are very laborious. They value the cultural aspect to a greater extent. They lead a simple life with the ultimate aim of life to be happy and satisfied. They do have many desires instead they are satisfied with what they are blessed

Village is the pride of India. The calm, clean, and serene ambiance of the communities help in keeping the mind clear and the body fit. According to the census, almost two-thirds of India's population still resides in the villages. Agriculture constitutes a significant part of the Indian economy and the fundamentals of this lie in the village. In villages, the people stay united no matter what. Agriculture and farming are some of the toughest jobs in India because most of them depend on manual labor and persistence.

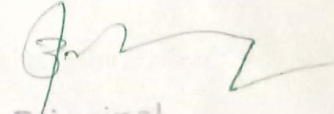

Agriculture and farming are some of the toughest jobs in India because most of them depend on manual labor and persistence. The government should work to make life a bit easy in villages to make it a better place to live in.

Our Visit to Village

We very fond of village life. Villages are blessed with natural beauty and calmness. There, the air is fresh and filled with divine essence. Everywhere we can see greenery. People are connected with each other with a bond of love. They have a better understanding and help each other with their need. People in villages have time for each other.

We used to visit village during vacation and enjoyed it a lot. We could get the fresh air free of pollution. Fruits and vegetables were fresh and with original taste. There were a lot of spaces to move around and play. we used to spend a lot of time in fields and observing the activities going on.

Life of village

1. Life in the village area is enjoyable and peaceful.
2. Villages have a natural beauty to them, and they are simple yet beautiful.
3. The villagers mostly go to the fields to earn a living.
4. Villagers are hardworking and their day starts earlier than people from cities. They work hard in field all day.
5. The village life is all about living a simple life while growing the nation's crops.
6. Village huts are mostly made up of mud.
7. People from diverse professions or multiple professions often can be found in villages.
8. There are potters, oilman, barbers, milkman and other classes of people in it some of them also work as farmers
9. Due to recent developments colleges, schools, hospitals, small factories can also be found along with farms in the villages
10. The people who reside in villages and lead a village life deserve lots of respect for the hard work they do.

Advantages and Disadvantages of Village Life

Everything in this world is featured with both positive and negative aspects. Village life is no doubt very beautiful and interesting but there are some disadvantages too.

Advantages-

Villages have very little pollution level and therefore have access to pure air, water, and other resources.

People in the villages live in harmony and trust each other.

Village helps in maintaining the ecological balance of nature as it has more greenery and thus compensates for the reduced number of trees in urban areas .

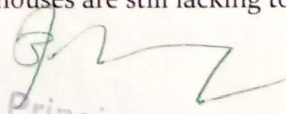

There are plenty of spaces in villages which account for a healthier environment.

Life in villages is secure and also requires less expenditure of money.

Disadvantages-

Many of the villages are yet not get electrified; houses are still lacking toilets which affect sanitation.

Chhoti, Distt. Durg (C.G.)

Villages face a lack of basic services like good roads, hospitals, and health facilities, and educational institutes. Therefore when any serious conditions occur, the patient has to be taken to nearby cities or hospitals.

The transport system is also not developed in many of the villages. People have to walk miles to get transport facilities.

As people in villages are less educated so they do not maintain proper sanitation, thus become prone to several diseases.

They have a strong belief in superstition and thus easily become victims of fraudsters.

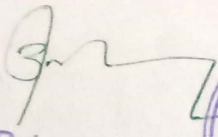

Important points of village life –

1. Daily life routine
2. Literacy
3. Culture
4. Government schemes
5. Problems
6. Water management
7. Hygiene
8. Employment
9. Agriculture works
10. Social life

Conclusion

Village life is simple and beautiful than cities. People live peacefully and are not being driven in a race of success. It is a better place to give relaxation to our mind and soul, as it is free from noise and is filled with natural beauty.

Village life has its own importance but there are some basic services and amenities which should be provided to make life easier in villages. This will improve the living condition of people.
